“See that you not be deceived . . .

for many will come in my name saying ‘I am he.’ Do not follow them”

As a result of the conquest of Jerusalem by Titus in 71 AD, earthquakes, and other wars, part of the Western (Wailing) Wall of the Temple Mount and a section of the wall on the East side of the city are all that remain partially intact. But Jesus was not impressed with the physical size and adornments of the Temple and he did not expect it to last. He is the New Temple, and as a result of our Baptism, we are Temples of the Holy Spirit. As a consequence of our Baptism we are responsible for having a mature faith appropriate to our age and a prayer life that is more about what we are willing to hear from God than what we say to God. Like the City of Jerusalem, we will be attacked. If we have been good stewards and caretakers of our faith we will be strong enough to endure attacks, questions, ridicule, rejection and even persecution by people who feel threatened by our beliefs and values. Our Temple will not be destroyed.

We will live forever.

TODAYS REFLECTION

It is the age between our Lord's first coming and His last. We live in the new world begun by His life, death, Resurrection and Ascension, by the sending of His Spirit upon the Church. But we await the day when He will come again in glory.

"Lo, the day is coming," Malachi warns in today's First Reading. The prophets taught Israel to look for the Day of the Lord, when He would gather the nations for judgment (see Zephaniah 3:8; Isaiah 3:9; 2 Peter 3:7).

Jesus anticipates this day in today's Gospel. He cautions us not to be deceived by those claiming "the time has come." Such deception is the background also for today's Epistle (see 2 Thessalonians 2:1-3).

The signs Jesus gives His Apostles seem to already have come to pass in the New Testament. In Acts, the Epistles and Revelation, we read of famines and earthquakes, the Temple's desolation. We read of persecutions—believers imprisoned and put to death, testifying to their faith with wisdom in the Spirit.

These "signs" then, show us the pattern for the Church's life—both in the New Testament and today.

We too live in a world of nations and kingdoms at war. And we should take the Apostles as our "models," as today's Epistle counsels. Like them we must persevere in the face of unbelieving relatives and friends, and forces and authorities hostile to God.

As we do in today's Psalm, we should sing His praises, joyfully proclaim His coming as Lord and King. The Day of the Lord is always a day that has already come and a day still yet to come. It is the "today" of our Liturgy.

The Apostles prayed maranatha—"O Lord come!" (see 1 Corinthians 16:22; Revelation 22:20). In the Eucharist He answers, coming again as the Lord of hosts and the Sun of Justice with its healing rays. It is a mighty sign and a pledge of that Day to come.

Yours in Christ,

Dr. Scott Hahn
